

Choosing a mortgage company based on the best rate is not always a great idea. The process from application to closing is difficult and complicated. Finding the right loan officer is extremely important to making sure that your mortgage application is processed and approved. Let's face it, it won't matter that you applied for a 3% mortgage with zero down and zero points if that bank can't close the loan.

As REALTORS, we work with various mortgage loan officers every day. We have found many loan officers that not only quote fabulous and competitive rates, but also know how to close the loan. They have the experience needed to see you through the entire process and make sure your mortgage is approved, on time, with as little hassle to you as possible.

We have worked with the following lenders, time and time again, they have the experience needed to close a loan and they have always provided excellent customer service. Feel free to contact any or all of them and choose one that you feel will serve your needs.
